Reframing the Conversation Around LGBT Equality

PFLAG National Executive Director Jody Huckaby weighs in on how choice of language can impact the important work of PFLAG:

I had an opportunity to read a very disturbing article reflecting the anti-gay establishment's attempt to reframe the language we use in our work for equality.

Ryan Sorba, chairman of the Young Conservatives of California, spoke at The Awakening conference in Virginia. There he discussed the need to change the terms by which the anti-LGBT movement refers to LGBT people. Sorba proposed alternatives to the word "gay," and by a unanimous show of hands of the audience, the terms "same-sex attraction," "same-sex intercourse," "sodomy" and "unnatural vice" were deemed more appropriate to the cause. In addition, Sorba also suggested that LGBT people should be referred to as "anti-Christian."

Self-described "ex-gay" Greg Quinlan, formerly of the Human Rights Campaign, and a founder of PFOX: Parents and Friends of Ex-Gays & Gays, used his appearance at this conference to state, among other things, that "Homosexuality is the greatest threat [leading] to the criminalization of Christianity..."

The criminalization of Christianity? Unnatural vice? This attempt to reframe the discussion around equality for all people is nothing less than shameful. And the use of faith-based rhetoric to do it is an affront to people of ALL faiths. To be gay, lesbian, bisexual or transgender is not mutually exclusive with being a person of faith. One might argue, in fact, that it takes a great deal of faith to deal with the constant barrage of accusations, hurtful commentary, and outright condemnation from self-proclaimed "true Christians."

Now is a good time for all of us who care about LGBT equality to reframe the conversation by talking more about faith, by talking more about our families, by talking more about the impact these outright lies have on us, our loved ones, our families and on the LGBT and ally community as a whole.

How will YOU reframe this conversation in your daily work of moving equality forward?

Jody Huckaby
PFLAG National Executive Director

ANNOUNCEMENTS

PFLAG Support Meetings

Redwood City, June 13

In this PFLAG Cable TV Award-winning video, Paul Clifford interviews Ralph Nelson about bullying in schools and how he works to help kids deal with it. Paul and Ralph talk about their own experiences with bullying as children. Then Ralph describes how he visits the sixth-, seventh-, and eighth-grade classes that his wife teaches, where he talks to the kids about bullying and performs the song Don't Laugh at Me, often with touching and profound results. He also performs the song for Paul and the viewing audience, and he tells the story of how the composers, Steve Seskin and Allen Shamblin, came to write the song, and how it inspired Peter Yarrow (of the folk group Peter, Paul and Mary) to found Operation Respect <www.operationrespect.org>, which provides educational materials on bullying and uses the song as a centerpiece.

Redwood City, July 11
San Jose, June 13

At both July support meetings we will share our experiences from Pride month and the parades. ▼

Community Heroes Award for our Chapter

Our San Jose/Peninsula PFLAG Chapter was presented with the Community Heroes Award at Outlet's Out to Eat Gala Dinner on May 12. They told us: "We are really excited to acknowledge your hard work in creating safe spaces for LGBTQ youth and their families." ▼

PFLAG National Convention 2011

Bringing the Message Home
Washington, D.C.
November 3-6, 2011

Keynote Speaker:
Betty DeGeneres

For those of you who are still deciding whether or not you'll attend, here are just a few of the many reasons you should join us in November:

- Learn, learn, learn! Whether you are new to PFLAG or a seasoned member, there is always more to know about how to be a powerful advocate to move equality forward. The convention is the place to build on and develop your skills.
- Hear information, right from the source. Expert speakers will be on hand to give you the latest information and the most current topics.
- Visit your representatives on Capitol Hill. No matter how many times you do it, there is something thrilling about walking the halls of Congress and having your voice heard.
- Make connections. PFLAG chapters and members are an incredible source of information to each other. Past PFLAG National Conventions have sparked lasting relationships between neighboring chapters and chapters from coast to coast.
- Have fun! Really, we promise! It won't just be educational, it will be fun too. You will have lots of time to socialize and enjoy all that the DC area has to offer.
- Meet and get to know the PFLAG National Staff, National Board Members and Regional Directors! This is your chance – and ours – to spend some time together.

We hope that for these reasons and many more you will join us for the 2011 PFLAG National Convention. Although the early bird deadline has passed, you can still register at a reduced rate until August 31st:

Parade Season is Coming!
March or Ride in SF Pride — with PFLAG!
June 26

Invite your family to join you to walk up Market to Civic Center or ride in the double-decker bus with PFLAG in the San Francisco Gay Pride Parade! Monitors are required for each contingent — PFLAG will need 14 monitors. These wonderful volunteers go to a 1 hour training session before the Parade. Your family and friends can march with you as you focus on the safety of our marchers. Monitor training will be held on Monday, June 13 at 6:30 PM in Mountain View, and at multiple SF locations. Please see the last page for the full schedule and details! ▼

San Jose Pride — Moving Forward Together
August 20-21

This year San Jose Pride celebrates unity, community, partnership and moving forward together. The Pride Festival will be held in Discovery Meadow Park, San Jose. To date there has been no announcement of a parade. Stay tuned for information about the PFLAG booth at the two-day festival! ▼

July 4 Celebration Parade
Redwood City

Come march with us in the PFLAG contingent of the Redwood City July 4th Celebration Parade! What better way to share PFLAG's love and support for our families with 100,000 spectators from around the Bay Area. Join our San Jose/Peninsula PFLAG chapter as we march carrying our PFLAG banner and our Rainbow and U.S. flags! This is "Middle America" and everyone who has marched agrees that it is one of the most valuable events PFLAG does all year.

Gathering time: by 10AM **
Starting place: near Whipple and Arguello
Dress: Black pants, a plain white top, and a PFLAG sash.

We will also wear firemen's hats (provided) to commemorate the Redwood City Fire Department's 150 years of community service — the theme of this year's Parade.

 Exact time and location details will be given to us a week before the parade. To receive the updated information, please let us know via email that you'll join us! Contact us via our website: www.pflagsanjose.org ▼

Brother Outsider: The Life of Bayard Rustin
June 17

6:30 PM - 9:00 PM
 Billy DeFrank Center, 938 The Alameda, San Jose

A master strategist and tireless activist, Bayard Rustin is best remembered as the organizer of the 1963 March on Washington, one of the largest nonviolent protests ever held in the United States. He brought Gandhi's protest techniques to the American civil rights movement, and helped mold Martin Luther King, Jr. into an international symbol of peace and nonviolence. ▼

Despite these achievements, Rustin was silenced, threatened, arrested, beaten, imprisoned and fired from important leadership positions, largely because he was an openly gay man in a fiercely homophobic era. Five years in the making and the winner of numerous awards, the documentary film Brother Outsider focuses on Rustin's activism for peace, racial equality, economic justice and human rights.

Back to the Ballot Town Hall Meeting
June 7 or June 9

June 7 at 7:00 - 9:00 pm — Billy DeFrank Center
 938 The Alameda, San Jose

Or Online: June 9, 6:00 - 7:00 pm

Should our community return to the ballot in 2012 to restore the freedom to marry and overturn Prop. 8? Delays in the federal case against Prop. 8 have sparked conversations about whether we should wait for the courts to restore the freedom to marry or whether we should seek to overturn Prop. 8 through a ballot measure in November 2012.

Come and be part of the conversation! Equality California is holding a series of town hall meetings across California and online to come together and discuss the wisdom of moving forward with a ballot initiative. No decisions have been made! Please, join us and share your perspective. Help shape the decision. SF PRIDE MONITOR TRAINING

Dear PFLAGers and Friends,

The monitor training schedule is listed below. The one-hour Contingent Monitor training is required for each monitor - if we do not have 14 monitors, we can't march! Safety Monitor training takes up the second hour, and is optional. When you have taken the training, please email pflagsf@aol.com so we can add you to the list.

Our marching position will probably not be available until the week of Pride or it will be posted at the trainings. We will put it on our website when the details are available.

Everyone is welcome to join PFLAG on Market Street, no sign-up required. Send any questions to pflagsf@aol.com. Yes, there will be a sightseeing bus for those who can't walk the mile up Market. And, Yes, if you are a monitor, your friends can walk with you but your primary responsibility is to the safety of the marchers.

Sam and I will be at one of the trainings - our 21st! Hope to see you at Pride!

Julia Thoron
